Louie:

This is to follow-up on our conversation on August 8/01, with regard to the e-mail from Peter Campbell, on the existing water quality for other lead-zinc mines such as Polaris, Nanisivik and Pine Point.

I mentioned that, after discussion with our Water Resources staff, I have been informed that we do not have the data for Polaris and Nanisivik, as they have been transferred to the Nunavut Water Board and any request for the information should be made to them.

For your information, I have also advised Peter of the situation and the ownership of the data for Polaris and Nanisivik.
