Re: EA1314-01 Jay Project – Acceptance of the Yellowknives Dene First Nation Traditional Knowledge Report and request for comments

The Yellowknives Dene First Nation (YKDFN) submitted its Traditional Knowledge Report in support of its technical report for the Jay Project environmental assessment on August 17, 2015. Since this document was submitted after the technical report due date, the Review Board asked the developer and parties if they had concerns with including the document as evidence on the public record. Parties and the developer were asked to respond in writing by noon on August 21.

On August 20, the Government of the Northwest Territories advised that they have no comments (GNWT letter to MVEIRB re inclusion of YKDFN TK Report) on including the Traditional Knowledge Report as evidence on the public record. No other party responded.

The Review Board therefore accepts the YKDFN Traditional Knowledge Report as evidence on the public record.

The YKDFN Traditional Knowledge Report is new information. Parties and the developer are granted the opportunity to comment on this Traditional Knowledge Report. The response due date is August 28, 2015 at 4 pm.
