Re: CanZinc's responses to the Review Board's Reasons for Decision on the adequacy of the Developer's Assessment Report

Canadian Zinc Corporation (CanZinc) submitted the remaining items required in the Review Board's December 21st, 2015, *Reasons for Decision on the adequacy of the Developer's Assessment Report*¹ (Reasons for Decision). In the Reasons for Decision, the Review Board identified four items that required additional information from CanZinc. These were:

1. effects assessment and description of the Sundog Creek re-alignment,
2. detailed characterization of permafrost and karst hazards from km 48 – 59,
3. frequency of landslides and avalanches, and
4. description of terrain from km 160 – 184.

CanZinc provided information on these four items in the following documents:

- January 29th, 2016 letter to the Review Board² and
- April 11th, 2016 submission to the Review Board³.

With these submissions, CanZinc has met the requirements outlined in the Reasons for Decision. Each of these items may be explored further by the Review Board or parties in the remainder of the environmental assessment.
