MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIR

I am pleased to present the Mackenzie Valley Environmental Impact Review Board Strategic Plan for 2015-2017. This Strategic Plan was developed through collaboration between Board members and staff, including workshops where progress against the 2011/12–2013/14 Strategic Plan was reviewed and the vision, goals, and strategies for the next three years were updated to reflect the Board's current operating environment.

This Strategic Plan outlines the Board's operating environment, including the successes and the challenges that we have faced, and continue to face. The Plan identifies the Vision, Mission, and Goals that guide the organization in its work. Associated with each of the goals, are strategies that the Board is committed to implementing in order to achieve its goals and continue to respond to changes, leverage opportunities, and address challenges. Finally, the Plan identifies the performance measures and targets that will ensure that the Board remains on track to achieving its goals.

The Board is excited and optimistic about its work over the next three years and is proud of its contribution to representing the interests of the people in the Mackenzie Valley in relation to environmental impact assessment.

This Strategic Plan will be reviewed and renewed upon the conclusion of its three year term.

Sincerely,
JoAnne Deneron

BOARD GOVERNANCE

As a result of the Gwich'in Comprehensive Land Claim Agreement and the Sahtu Dene and Metis Comprehensive Land Claim Agreement, the Mackenzie Valley Resource Management Act came into force on December 22, 1998 and established the Mackenzie Valley Environmental Impact Review Board (MVEIRB) as the main agency of environmental assessment and review in the Mackenzie Valley.

The purpose of the MVEIRB is to conduct environmental assessments, which are public processes, by undertaking a thorough study of a proposed development application in order to determine if it is likely to have significant adverse impacts on the environment or is likely to cause public concern.

The Board is a co-management body whose members are appointed by the federal, territorial, Tłıcho, Gwich'in, and Sahtu Governments. The jurisdiction of the Board applies to all lands in the Northwest Territories, excluding the Inuvialuit Settlement Region and Wood Buffalo National Park.

The members of the Board include:

JoAnne Deneron (Chairperson)
James Wah-Shee (Tłıcho Nominee)
John Curran (Federal Nominee)
Sunny Munroe (Federal Nominee)

The office of the Board is located in Yellowknife.

CURRENT OPERATING ENVIRONMENT

The following provides an overview of the challenges and opportunities associated with the Board's current operating environment. These challenges and opportunities have helped to inform the Strategic Plan.

Challenges

- Lack of participant funding can result in delays to the environmental assessment process and potentially limit parties' participation in the process
- The MVRMA amendments have resulted in changes to Board processes; further changes are anticipated as the remaining legislative changes come into effect
- Using outdated technology and not keeping abreast of new technology, including the lack of capacity of parties to use new technology
- Ensuring a full complement of Board members, which is dependent on timely appointments
- Unsettled land claims and lack of land-use plans
- Achieving quorum for decisions
- Lack of understanding of the regulatory and Environmental Assessment processes
- Clarity of roles amongst the Review Board, Land and Water Boards, and other integrated resource management organizations

Opportunities

- New Board members, senior management staff, and a dynamic team
- Improved transparency and communication using web-based technology
- Legislated timelines provide improved clarity and consistency
- Implementing the new legislation can result in positive changes to the current Environmental Assessment process, such as:
 - greater efficiency through implementing new timelines without compromising effectiveness
 - more accountability and effective tracking of mitigation measures through development certificates
- The Board has developed into a strong and stable organization
- The devolution process has shifted responsibilities and improved procedural clarity
- Revised MVRMA allows for regional studies that could help the Board deal with cumulative issues
- The Cumulative Impact Monitoring Program now focuses more on Board identified priorities, and can contribute more effectively to the Environmental Assessment process
