

Transforming Impact Assessment to Meet the Climate Crisis

Presidential Address

Delivered at: IAIA'24 International Conference, Dublin, Ireland. April 27 2024

This is the presidential address delivered by Alan Ehrlich, the Mackenzie Valley Review Board's Manager of EIA, in his role of President of the International Association for Impact Assessment. It focuses on the need to do impact assessment fast enough to meet the urgent challenge of global decarbonization, while still applying the lessons learned from over 50 years of impact assessment.
