Re: EA1314-01 – Jay Project, applications for intervenor status

The Work Plan for the Jay Project states that intervenor status applications are due in June 2015. Work plan - Jay Project

The date for intervenor status applications is revised to July 2015 to allow for preparation of a Reference Bulletin that explains the difference between parties and intervenors. The Review Board will post this Reference Bulletin shortly.

More information on intervenor status applications and submission of interventions will follow in early July. All other dates in the Work Plan remain the same.
